Annotation.

Every year new universities, both private and public, open in the Republic of Uzbekistan. In total there are more than 170 universities in Uzbekistan, the number of foreign universities has increased to 31. Over the past 10 years the largest number of applicants choose economic directions, namely: Economics and Finance, Banking, Tourism, Marketing, Management, Accounting and others. Applicants enter both old and new institutions of higher education. Among the most famous economic universities, it is necessary to highlight the Tashkent state university of economics, the University of World Economy and Diplomacy and the Tashkent Financial Institute.

- undergraduate programs;
- graduate programs;
- doctoral programs.

In 2019, Tashkent Finance Institute ranked 4th, among 65 universities in Uzbekistan.

Conclusion.

Economics is a promising field that is developing rapidly. However, economics is a complex science that is not easy to study. That is why different branches of economics are practiced in higher education institutions. Higher education is simply necessary in economic activities. In Uzbekistan, the development of education does not stand still. All new universities with an economic bias are opening and old reliable universities, such as the Tashkent Financial Institute, the University of World Economy and Diplomacy, the Tashkent State University of Economics are not losing their fame. Young applicants enter both new institutions and proven old ones.
